Cambridge May 23. 1775

You are hereby ordrd and directed to receive of the bearer two horses, and put them with the other four sent to you yesterday, and put them into a pasture by themselves and place a Centinel on them; and deliver them to no one person, without a special order, from the Commander in Chief of the Artillery, or from Your humble Servt. J. Gridley Col.

To Capt. Foster or the Next Commander at Mrs Richardsons

Capt. Gridley's of artillery, containing forty-nine men, with two field pieces, was ordered, with other forces, to parade at six o'clock in the evening on Cambridge Common.